

Tuesday, 17th October 2017
7.30 pm to 9:30 pm

“An East Anglian Wildlife Photographer’s Year”
by Kevin Sawford

at the Tower Hall, Broadlands Way Rushmere St. Andrew, Ipswich IP4 5SU

An East Anglian Wildlife Photographer's Year is a seasonal journey around the region featuring many of Kevin's published and award winning images and some of the stories behind them. The talk will demonstrate the various wildlife subjects in the region and aim to enthuse and inspire the audience to get out with their cameras during the year.

Kevin Sawford is based in the village of Elmswell in the heart of Suffolk. Although his main passion is to photograph the natural world Kevin enjoys photographing many different subjects as you can see from the galleries on his website.

Kevin also runs photography workshops for the Suffolk Wildlife Trust and Wild Adventures under Suffolk's skies.

<http://www.kevinsawford.com>

Admission fee, including refreshments, is £5.00 for non members.
Tickets available from: East Ipswich Camera Club c/o 01473 412506
or secretary@eastipswichcameraclub.co.uk

www.eastipswichcameraclub.co.uk